River Thames

Fact File

Length: 346 km (215 miles)

Source: Kemble, near Cirencester

Mouth: Southend-on-Sea, Essex, UK

The River Thames is the second longest river in the United Kingdom, behind the River Severn.

It rises at Thames Head in Gloucestershire and flows into the North Sea, passing through London, the country's capital. The Thames also runs through towns and cities, including Reading, Oxford, and Windsor.

Some of the most famous events in British history have taken place on or near the River Thames. Some of these include the Great Fire of London in 1666, the plot to blow up the houses of Parliament in 1605, and the signing of the Magna Carta in 1215.

Read the information above and then answer the questions.

LITERACY TASK

The Teacher's Day in Bed

Our teacher's having a day in bed –
She's sent her pets to school instead!

There's . . .

A parrot to read the register,
A crocodile to sharpen the pencils,
A canary to teach singing,
An adder to teach maths,
An octopus to make the ink,
An elephant to Hoover the floor,
An electric eel to make the computer work,
A giraffe to look for trouble at the back,
A tiger to keep order at the front,
A reed bunting (can't you guess?
to help with reading, of course!),
A secretary bird to run the office,
A piranha fish to give swimming lessons
(Glad I'm off swimming today!),
A zebra to help with crossing the road,
Oh, and a dragon to cook the sausages.

I bet that none of you ever knew
Just how many things a teacher can do!
